

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A PAR lamp may be formed with a highly domed lens. The domed lens enables increased beam spread to as much as 90 degrees from the lamp axis. This fills in the shadow gaps between adjacent lamps. The domed lens may also extend beyond the forward edge of a recessed fixture and thereby washing the adjacent walls with light instead of leaving shadowed regions intermediate adjacent fixtures.